THE

GREEN gb LEAF

Niseko Village

“Sekka”, meaning snow flower, is a beautiful Japanese word that likens falling snow to drifting blossoms. Niseko’s world-renowned snow blankets the mountains in white, bringing the quiet serenity of winter.

Sekka offers a place to rest the body, ease away the cold and fatigue, and restore a sense of calm. Surrounded by Niseko’s winter landscape, guests experience the attentive hospitality and healing traditions of Japan. Just as no two snow crystals are ever alike, we listen carefully to each guest and tailor every treatment to their body and wellbeing. Japan’s refined sense of beauty and graceful attention to detail are expressed through gentle aromas and the warmth of human touch.

Like snow blossoms drifting softly from the sky, tension slowly leaves the body, leaving a quiet sense of space within the mind. Sekka ー雪華ー is a tranquil sanctuary inspired by Niseko’s pristine snow and the timeless art of Japanese care.
